Alabama Confederate Pension Applications [ca 1880–1930].

Microfilm	276 rolls	FHL #1502476+	Locality	Alabama

On 19 February 1867 Alabama provided for Confederate veteran pensions. Initially it provided funds for soldiers or sailors who had lost their arms or legs in battle. Eligibility was later broadened. Applicants had to prove desertion-free military duty in Confederate service. Home guard or state reserve service did not qualify an applicant; likewise, militia service in another Confederate state was not considered acceptable service. Coverage to widows was extended in 1886. Veterans and widows could not have real and personal property valued at more than $2,000. Residents of the state soldiers' home at Mountain Creek were ineligible.

Widows had to have married the veteran before 1914. If a widow had married before the end of the war, she was entitled to a full pension. Those who married after April 1865 were entitled to only a one-third pension.

The files are arranged in alphabetical order. The veteran's application contains military and genealogical data and typically includes affidavits from others attesting to his service. A widow's application normally includes similar information as well as her husband's date and place of death and the date and place of their marriage.

Applications for Relief by Maimed Confederate Soldiers.

Microfilm	2 rolls		Locality	Alabama
-----------	---------	--	----------	---------

The records are arranged alphabetically by county of residence and thereunder alphabetically by name of the applicant. Each applicant had to have been a resident of Alabama when he rendered his service. His application gives the date, his military company and unit, the date of his discharge, the date and place where he was wounded, the nature of his disability, his occupation, and the act under which he qualified.

Alabama provided for the relief of maimed soldiers under acts of 1867, 1 March 1881, and 1885. Veterans received artificial limbs or compensation for loss of limbs or disabling wounds. The series is not complete. Some of the files will be found in the series of Alabama Confederate Pension Applications, which the Library has. Others will appear in the records of the State Auditor and the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Microfilm	36 rolls	NARA M2060	Locality	Alabama

This set contains the files of the 828 approved cases submitted from Alabama in 1871–1880. They were claims from citizens who had remained loyal to the Union in the Civil War and had had stores and supplies taken or furnished during the war. The loyalty of each claimant had to be verified and the amount, nature, and value of the property established. The Commissioners reported their judgment to the House of Representatives, which authorized payment.

The records are arranged alphabetically by county and thereunder by claimant. Files contain summary reports, petitions, inventories for supplies and property for which compensation was desired, testimonies of claimants and others (both adverse and favorable) relating to the claims, vouchers, powers of attorneys, correspondence, the final report, and the certificate of settlement.

For some of the wars, such as the American Revolution, War of 1812, and Indian Wars, there are entries of individuals who served elsewhere before settling in Alabama.

At the time of the Indian War of 1812–1814, Alabama did not exist as a separate territory. It was a part of Mississippi Territory. There will be names of individuals from Tennessee, Georgia, and South Carolina as well as Indians in this series.

The cards for the Spanish American War of 1898–1899 contain the most personal data, sometimes giving the age, height, complexion, eye and hair color, occupation, and marital status.

Many individuals will appear in more than one of the indexes.
